

Production & Manufacturing

Experienced

Maintenance Tech

40 hours - Newark, USA - Newark, USA

The Maintenance Technician will be responsible for planning, update and automatization of maintenance equipment and plan Improving uptime and reducing operational costs. Technical documentation on all Production facilities including all Preventive Maintenance schedules.

What you'll do

- Performing routine maintenance in the plant and fixing components related to the production line and to ensure smooth running of the production conveyor
- Working with the production and safety team in identifying and fixing potential safety related damages within the plant, with respect to damaged electrical wires, broken safety barriers etc. and all other safety hazard to avoid future injuries
- Implement Continuous Improvement activities
- Assure all workstations are in accordance with Health and Safety regulations
- Ensure periodical verification of Production fixtures using master gauge
- Manage all toxic wastes and materials
- Ensure all Health and Safety and Quality standards are met
- Make all work instruction and maintenance plan of all equipment
- Update and maintain all maintenance tools related documents
- Respective preventive maintenance planning
- Implement Preventive Maintenance Plan

What we are looking for

- Sufficient experience in Microsoft Office Applications
- JIS
- Quality knowledge regarding the production line and product
- Time Management

What we offer

- Medical 401k Vacation and Sick hours

Apply here

Scan the QR code and apply on careers.motherson.com